LEGAL ASSISTING (116)

Legal Assistants are professionals who assist attorneys in the delivery of legal services. To be a successful legal assistant, a person must possess not only a common core of legal knowledge, but also vital critical thinking, organizational, communication, and interpersonal skills. The Associate in Arts in Legal Assisting is designed to give students the substantive knowledge and practical skills necessary to enter the legal work force as a legal assistant, as well as provide students with a general education necessary to fully participate in increasingly complex social settings.
