

Rogers State University

Waiver of Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA, aka The Buckley Amendment) provides students the right to inspect and review educational records, the right to seek to amend educational records, and the right to have some control over the disclosure of information from educational records. In compliance with this Federal law (34 CFR : 99), students have a right of privacy to personal information contained as part of the educational record. If the student wishes to release this information, they may do so by signing the following waiver. It is to be understood that upon waiving their right to privacy, requests for student records and information will only be disclosed to those entities or persons listed on this form.
