Special Report: Ethics Committee

- Topic: Should we say the Pledge of Allegiance at the beginning of SGA meetings?
 - Received a report from David Canoy opposing the Pledge being recited with a number of reasons why
 - Discussed a lot of points and possible compromises

- After all of the discussion the committee came to a decision that the Pledge is not an important part of the meeting, that it causes pressure on those who do not want to participate, and decided that the compromise of having a moment of silence was not really necessary either. The decision is that there will not be the Pledge or a moment of silence during meetings.
