

Writing an Essay Conclusion

Draft a conclusion to an essay by answering in full sentences...

What have you added to the overall conversation about this topic?

How did you prove your main point? Remind us of your smaller, supporting points so we don't forget.

What happens now? How could you or your peers add to this discussion?

Why is your main point important? Who will benefit from reading your ideas?

What is it most important that we remember about your topic? OR: How could you bring the reader back to your hook to tie things up nicely?
