LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Phil Goldfarb

First of all, I would like to thank those of you who filled out and returned the 2014 Alumni questionnaire. You will see many of your suggestions implemented along with your ideas on improving future Reunions. One of the main requests is spending more time with your fellow alumni. Your Executive Committee has taken this to heart and at the 2015 reunion there will be additional opportunities to visit with your friends. Examples are on Friday from 3 to 5 p.m. and at an expanded Ice Cream Social on Saturday, which will be held in the OMA Heritage Section located in the new Chapman Dining Hall. The OMA Documentary will also be shown on Friday at 3 p.m. on the big screen in the auditorium. You will even have the opportunity this year to visit a GOLD program cadet's room and compare it to how you lived as a cadet!

By being on the OMA Alumni Board of Directors for a number of years, it has made me realize what a treasure we have with many of our alumni. These men attended 5, 10, 20 and even 30 years before me and yet we still have many of the same feelings about our time on the Hill, how it developed each of us, and feelings for the institution that was called the "West Point of the Southwest." Knowing them has made me appreciate the caliber of individuals who attended this school. Speaking of caliber of individuals... the 2015 Hall of Fame and Distinguished Alumni selections has to be one of the best that we have ever presented at a reunion!

I would also urge each of you to take some time to meet other alumni at the reunion. Sit with someone new at a function. Make it a point to meet and greet someone who you have never met before. You will love the exchange of stories! I promise you that you will be glad that you did.

Finally, I will continue to challenge each of you to bring up just one alumni friend of yours who has never been to a reunion before. Do you realize that these men have never seen the world class OMA Museum, the OMA KIA Memorial, the RSU campus, understand what an active Alumni Association that we have or appreciate what an OMA Alumni Reunion is all about!

If you would like to contact me personally, please feel free to e-mail me at: phil.goldfarb@cox.net. Tell me what is on your mind and I promise you a prompt reply.

With Courage, Loyalty and Honor,

Phil Goldfarb '69
OMA Alumni Association President

RAISING FLAGS OVER COLLEGE HILL

RSU held a flag raising ceremony on November 11 to celebrate the addition of three new flagpoles in front of Preparatory Hall. Members of the RSU GOLD program raised the flags as students, faculty, staff and OMA alumni looked on. This is the first time the school has had three flag poles on campus in order to fly the U.S., Oklahoma and RSU/OMA flags. Veterans Day was selected for the event to honor the sacrifices made by veterans in service to our country, including the more than 100 OMA alumni who are listed on the OMA KIA memorial between Preparatory and Meyer Hall.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Dr. Danette Boyle

During the last few weeks, more of you than ever before have communicated with me, saying how much you enjoyed our last reunion and the OMA Documentary DVD; many also conveyed how excited you are already about the next OMA Alumni Reunion. I greatly appreciate your messages, as well as all of you who sent me your updated email and home addresses. Your concern and assistance for the OMA Alumni Office is valued greatly. You are all like family.

We have been together for so many years, and I cherish each and every day that I have the opportunity to work with you.

It is already time to start making your plans for the next OMA Alumni Reunion, June 5 and 6, 2015. It is only five months away, and this year's celebration is going to be like no other! This year's theme is more than a theme. It is also the wonderful presence of BOOTS BACK ON THE HILL!

I sometimes ask myself, "Can this really be true? Do we now have military students once again on campus?" and the answer is a resounding YES. I am so fortunate because one of them, Levi Mosier, works for us in the alumni office. He is a very sharp young man working hard to earn extra funds for his education. He is quickly learning about OMA and the OMA Alumni. Please make sure to read the article on page 12 about Levi and the OMA Boots Back on the Hill Scholarship Fund we are putting in place to help all of our Military Students. I can hardly wait for you to meet him and all our other Guard Officer Leadership Development (GOLD) Program students during the reunion. I have met them all, and I plan to know them much better by the June Reunion.

The Guard Officer Leadership Development (GOLD) Program is a tremendous program at so many levels. Captain Michael Mitchell, the program officer in charge, is one sharp soldier himself. He and I are collaborating closely to make sure all the scholarship funding is used in the most supportive manner possible for the GOLD students. The cost of college is so much greater than the "few" short years ago when we all attended.

So, please start thinking about the Reunion now, and give me a call anytime to register. There will be so much more for you to experience this year. In addition to the fellowship and re-connection with your many friends from long ago, you will have the opportunity to meet (one-on-one) our GOLD program students and join them for lunch. Our students will present the Color Guard at the morning formation, and the ceremony honoring all the deceased from the past year. You also will get to meet Major General Myles Deering, the Oklahoma Secretary of Veteran Affairs. The 145th Army Band will support our ceremonies in providing live musical entertainment.

The 2015 OMA Alumni Reunion will make a strong statement about the dedication, support, citizenship, and patriotism of our members, unlike anything we have seen before.

Don't wait. Call me now at 918-343-6888 or email me at dboyle@rsu.edu so we can secure your rightful place at this year's homecoming for BOOTS BACK ON THE HILL!

BOOTS BACK ON THE HILL 2015 OMA ALUMNI REUNION

From its inception in 1919, the Oklahoma Military Academy steadily gained renown, developing a prestigious national reputation as the West Point of the Southwest. During its 52-year history, one key component of OMA's success was its role as Oklahoma's primary leadership training ground for the U.S. armed forces. Many OMA alumni went on to have successful and distinguished military or civilian careers; many had both. All benefited from the OMA experience.

OMA coupled its ROTC program with a total-military immersion environment, establishing a gold standard for military educational training programs in the nation. OMA produced thousands of officers and 10 general officers. Many others went on to make significant and lasting contributions as non-commissioned officers and enlisted personnel in all branches of service, and the OMA spirit and legacy continue to this day.

Though many were saddened in 1971 when the OMA flag was lowered for what was thought to be the last time, the OMA spirit was not lowered and has never wavered. In the past 43 years, what has happened "On the Hill" under the leadership of the OMA Alumni Association and Rogers State University has been nothing short of phenomenal. No other military school in the nation has ever developed a better alumni association than our OMA Alumni Association.

Building on OMA Alumni support, RSU has continued in the best tradition of the Oklahoma Military Academy. Not only has Rogers State quickly become one of the best four year universities in the southwest, it has now formally instituted the Oklahoma Army National Guard's Guard Officer Leadership Development (GOLD) program. After more than four decades without a formal military training component on campus, RSU's GOLD Program students are a manifestation of OMA's proud tradition and sense of military service.

Alumni excitement is high with the intense pride and new opportunity to mentor RSU's eight inaugural GOLD program students when alumni return to the Hill next June 5 and 6 for the OMA Alumni Reunion. With OMA alumni support and RSU's outstanding planning and development strategy, the GOLD program is projected to grow to 30 or more within the next couple of years.

As has often been said, "The truly great things in life are worth waiting for." That is certainly true when it comes to waiting so long to get BOOTS BACK ON THE HILL. Dr. Danette Boyle, executive director of the OMA Alumni Association recently commented, "I can hardly wait until the 2015 OMA Alumni Reunion when our alumni come home and meet one-on-one with our military students during our reunion weekend. It will be an exciting and unique reunion for all when our Alumni have the opportunity to meet their OMA legacy GOLD Program students."

DO NOT MISS OUR NEXT REUNION! Please come and share your experience and wisdom with these young students!

Major General Michael A. Kuehr ('68), US Army (Retired), will serve as the 2015 OMA Alumni Reunion Adjutant. He will work very closely with Captain Michael Mitchell, the Officer in Charge of the RSU GOLD program in coordinating opportunities for alumni to interact with the military students.

Information on the 2015 OMA Alumni Reunion registration can be found on page 11 of this edition of the Guidon. Make plans now to attend. Don't wait or better yet, just call your executive director, Dr. Danette Boyle, at 918-343-6888 and let her take your registration by phone.

This reunion is promising to be the best reunion ever especially now with BOOTS BACK ON THE HILL!!

Senator Gene Howard, '43
Hall of Fame

Senator Gene Howard attended OMA for three years before enlisting in the Army in 1944. He served at Leyte and Luzon and then Japan after the war ended.

Upon his discharge, he attended Muskogee Junior College for one year and then enrolled in the University of Oklahoma where he obtained his law degree in 1951. That same year, he set up a law partnership with his close friend, Lloyd Larkin, which continues today.

In 1953, the Tulsa County Bar Association named him the Outstanding Young Attorney for that year.

Howard was elected in 1958 to the Oklahoma House of Representatives, and in 1964 he was elected to the Oklahoma Senate, where he served six years as President Pro Tempore. During this time he continued his military service, being recalled to active duty for the Berlin Crisis (1961-62). He retired as a lieutenant colonel following 20 years of active and reserve service.

Howard then returned to public service in 1990 when he took over as chairman of the Oklahoma State and Education Group Insurance Board, leaving in 1998 to become a trustee of the Oklahoma College Savings and Loan.

Upon being informed of his being inducted into the OMA Alumni Hall of Fame, Howard said, "This is one of the greatest honors of my life. It was OMA which framed my values and gave me what I needed to have a productive life."

Howard is in the process of retiring from his law firm and looking forward to spending full time with his wife and family.

Mr. Patrick Jordan, '63
Hall of Fame (Posthumous)

Patrick Jordan grew up in small town Oklahoma helping his father with all farming chores, including driving tractors and wheat trucks when he could barely see above the steering wheel.

As he grew, his parents decided that he needed more life experiences than he would get on the family farm. So in 1959, Jordan began his education at the Oklahoma Military Academy where he completed his junior and senior years in high school and his first two years of college. While at OMA, he was a member of the Drill Team, Saber Society, and participated in the Cadet Capers and the Fort Sill Summer Camp. His honors included Merit Ribbon, Military Proficiency Ribbon, Best Drill Platoon and Outstanding Company.

Jordan often spoke of the outstanding education he received and the wonderful lifelong friends that he made. Following his graduation from OMA, he attended the University of Oklahoma and Southwestern Oklahoma State University where he received degrees in history and education.

Jordan served in the U.S. Army from 1966 to 1973, serving two tours of duty in Vietnam. The first was as an Armored Platoon Leader and his second as an Advisor to a South Vietnamese Armored Unit. He was awarded many medals including Bronze Stars and a Purple Heart. After his second tour in Vietnam, he became a recruiter in the state of Washington. Although he enjoyed working with the high school students, in 1973 he made the decision to return to Oklahoma and his first love, farming and ranching. He continued this occupation until his death on August 17, 2014.

Jordan was very patriotic and loved hosting friends and family at his annual Independence Day celebration where his love for his country would shine through. He was proud to have been given the opportunity to serve his country during its time of need and would have returned to its defense again during these troubling times if age and health had allowed.

Mr. Shawnee Brittan, '53
Distinguished Alumni

Shawnee Brittan came to OMA in the fall of 1950 and graduated from high school in 1953. He participated in many activities while at OMA but he feels his major contribution came much later. "I feel that my main contribution to the corps was producing and directing the OMA documentary which premiered at the 2014 Reunion. Because of everyone's participation we were able to leave this documentary as part of the OMA legacy."

Brittan has received international acclaim in a career that has spanned many years in film and video production. His award-winning productions include "The Grand Ride of the Abernathy Boys," a hit of the Oklahoma Centennial; "En Pointe: The Lives and Legacies of Ballet's Native Americans," which premiered in New York City; "Sleep My Sons: The Story of the Arisan Maru," a World War II documentary; "God's Drum," featuring Oklahoma's Native American story-teller Te Ata, and "The American Indian Exposition," an Academy Award® documentary official selection. Current projects include "The Downwinders," a feature film; "Hellship," a feature film; and "Uncommon Valor: The Battle of Iwo Jima," a World War II documentary. He is a recipient of the Award for Distinguished Service to the Arts from the Royal Canadian Academy of Artists and Performers. He is a graduate of New York University and Oklahoma State University. He served eight years on the Oklahoma Film Commission, is a charter member of the American Film Institute, is listed in "Who's Who in Entertainment," is a past member of the Academy of Country & Western Music, and is a recipient of the Governor's Arts Award.

Brittan served as Filmmaker-in-Residence and Visiting Professor at the University of Oklahoma from 2001 to 2011. At OU he created the Independent Film Project (IFP/OU), an independent motion picture production program.

He worked in Hollywood throughout the 1960s where he was vice president of Celebrity News Service. In 1967, he co-founded Media Research Associates, which was Hollywood's first major outsourcing organization that created marketing, publicity and public relations campaigns for the major motion picture and television studios. In 1971, Media Research Associates was acquired by a major Asian entertainment conglomerate.

He currently serves as vice president of Hollymount Pictures, a start-up production/distribution company in Los Angeles and is consultant to the History Media Foundation in Washington, D.C.

Brittan and his wife, Joanna Champlin, live in Oklahoma City where they are both active in the theater, motion picture and arts communities.

Bruce continued studying toward a bachelor's degree at Oklahoma State University and continued participation in the Reserve Officer Training Corps program. He was a Distinguished Military Graduate, was recognized upon graduation as the outstanding cadet and awarded the Colonel Sam Myers trophy. Upon graduation in 1965, he received a regular army commission as 2nd Lieutenant of infantry. His military career spanned almost 28 years and he retired in 1993 as a colonel in the aviation branch. During his years of service he has two combat tours in Vietnam, multiple tours in airborne assignments, served as aide-de-camp to the commanding general at the Army's Special Warfare Center, served as a member of the staff to the Organization of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and commanded at all levels from lieutenant through colonel.

He has been married to Patty for 51 years and they have two sons, six grandchildren and one great grandchild.

In acknowledging the selection as a Distinguished Alumni, Bruce stated that he is humbled by the fact that someone thought enough of him to submit his name into the nomination and selection process.

Mr. Robert L. Dean, Jr., '49 Distinguished Alumni

Robert Dean was born in the small town of Byars, Oklahoma, in McClain County. At an early age, with the help and encouragement of his father, he raised Hereford cattle.

At 15, he realized his ambition of going to Oklahoma Military Academy. He was well suited to military life, and at the Academy he was a member of the Rifle Team and band. He gave piano concerts for visiting schools. After three years at OMA and a year at the University of Oklahoma, he won an appointment to West Point. There, his experience on the OMA Rifle Team served him well as he became a member of the West Point National Championship Team. While on the rifle team, he met his future wife, Helen Lothringer, the U.S. Women's Champion.

Following graduation, he entered the Air Force and became a pilot near the end of the Korean War. After four years, eye problems caused him to be grounded. Reluctantly, he left the Air Force and went to work on Wall Street. After two years, he moved to Mexico City and began work as a financial consultant. He became editor and publisher of "Mexletter", Mexico's prestigious financial publication. While in Mexico he gave numerous piano concerts and was selected the country's outstanding Jazz musician by Sucesos magazine.

A birthday gift of a few pounds of clay from his wife began what was to become a remarkable career in the arts. After winning national awards in sculpture, he realized that art was indeed his calling. He decided to leave the finance business and move to Florence, Italy, to continue to pursue his new dream of becoming an artist.

Shortly after arriving in Florence, he organized the American community and founded the American Society to foster cultural and educational interchange between Americans and their Italian hosts. He became the first president of the Society.

His principal work has been portrait sculptures, many of which are of illustrious military figures including Eisenhower, MacArthur, Patton, Bradley, Rickenbacker, de Gaulle, and The Night Sentry that memorializes the Revolutionary War patriots. There are five monumental statues of Eisenhower, two of which are in London and Normandy.

In recent years he began to work more in music and theater. His first play was produced in London, and he has also written two musicals. He continues to sculpt and to compose and write for the theater.

GOLD Program student Levi Mosier.

GOLD PROGRAM CREATES OPPORTUNITY FOR STUDENT

Hunting and fishing in his spare time in high school, Levi Mosier never thought of attending basic training and Advanced Individual Training. As late as his junior year, Levi did not think the military life was for him. However, he soon found himself joining the Air Force Junior ROTC program at his high school. He grew up in Lexington, Oklahoma and later moved to Inola, Oklahoma, where he graduated with honors from Inola High School in 2013.

As his military training progressed, he learned about discipline and order and began to enjoy it. When he was put into a leadership position, he saw how he could motivate people to get a task accomplished. This led him to join the Oklahoma Army National Guard and pursue the Guard Officer Leadership Development (GOLD) program.

When he first was interested in enrolling for college, the GOLD program had not yet started at RSU. But by luck and amazing timing, he was able to sign up for the classes he needed when the GOLD program at RSU started this past fall.

Levi received the Colonel Ed Ramsey Scholarship Endowment and OMA Boots Back on the Hill Scholarship last fall. He is very thankful for the scholarship and very glad he came to RSU. He says the staff is amazing and the timing worked out perfectly for him to attend RSU. He also works part-time in the OMA Alumni office. He plans to pursue a bachelor's degree in business administration with an entrepreneurial option. With the degree, he hopes to own his own business, a custom bike shop with his dad.

Levi is one of eight Oklahoma Army National Guard soldiers who make up the inaugural GOLD class at RSU. These soldiers range in experience from a private who has been in the OKARNG for four months to a sergeant with 12 years of guard experience, including two combat tours. The GOLD program provides an opportunity for soldiers to attend college full-time, attend Military Science classes, and prepare themselves for an exciting and challenging career as an Army National Guard Officer.

While RSU GOLD program students receive tuition assistance from the Oklahoma National Guard and housing assistance from RSU, the majority of them have a substantial financial need. To help ease the financial burden, the OMA Alumni Office is working with OMA Alumni to establish scholarships for the GOLD Program students. It is an extraordinary way to help with the cost of their education and perpetuate and preserve the OMA legacy forever "On the Hill." One great example is the establishment of the Lieutenant Colonel Ed Ramsey Scholarship Endowment by Dr. Raquel Ramsey and family to support the GOLD Program students.

Please contact Executive Director of the OMA Alumni, Dr. Danette Boyle, to learn more about this exciting scholarship opportunity and how you can help make the difference in the life of a young soldier.

Major General Baird H. Markham

120th Ordnance Maintenance Co. ONG. Federal Inspection, March 30, 1925.

OMA AND THE OKLAHOMA NATIONAL GUARD

Oklahoma Military Academy has a long history with the Oklahoma National Guard going back to the first years as a school. Serving on the OMA Board of Directors was Major General Baird H. Markham (1889-1968) who served from 1923 to 1933. General Markham was the first Adjutant General of the State of Oklahoma and served in that capacity from 1923 to 1925. At the same time he was the first Commander of the Oklahoma National Guard's 45th Infantry Division from February 1923 to April 1931.

Markham Barracks (now Markham Hall), named after General Markham started construction in 1927 and completed in the spring of 1928. A little known fact is that the "rabbits" of 1927 helped the school save money by assisting with the digging of the foundation of the building! At the time it cost $140,000 to build and boasted that it was lighted by electricity and heated by steam. The barracks contained quarters for 154 cadets as well as two faculty members. The school gymnasium and drill hall was located in the north wing of the building.

By 1931, OMA was the home of the 120th Ordnance Maintenance Company and the Headquarters Battery of the 160th Field Artillery. In addition, in downtown Claremore, the 179th Motor Transport Company had personnel made up of cadets from the academy. The battery of the Field Artillery was under the command of OMA Instructor 1st Lieutenant Sam Houston III, (the grandson of Sam Houston of Texas fame) as well as 2nd Lieutenant H. Tom Knight, Jr. (son of the Claremore senator often called the "father of OMA") who was second in command. OMA cadets at the time who had two years of training in the ROTC program received nine dollars per month for their service with the Oklahoma National Guard.

While those in the Military Department were regular military personnel, the honorary ranks given to instructors on the Hill throughout the years came from the Oklahoma National Guard.

The Guard Officer Leadership Development (GOLD) program established on the Hill in 2014 brings the legacy of OMA full-circle back to our "roots." As alumni we should welcome this opportunity to support and honor the memory of OMA as the institution that gave us all so much. We welcome your support in our endeavors.

GUARD OFFICER LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT (GOLD) PROGRAM

We need your help with BOOTS BACK ON THE HILL SCHOLARSHIP FUND by supporting scholarships for the RSU students in the Guard Officer Leadership Development (GOLD) Program. The GOLD program provides an opportunity for Soldiers to attend college full-time, attend Military Science classes, and prepare themselves for an exciting and challenging career as an Army national Guard officer. Your generous contribution today will not only have a positive lifetime impact on a young military student, but it will also help perpetuate the OMA legacy.

✔ YES, I would like to "Seize the Day" and help with a scholarship for our RSU students in the GOLD Program.

CHANGE SERVICE REQUESTED

RSU GOLD PROGRAM INCLUDES A BIT OF OMA HISTORY WITH ITS NEW PATCH

The RSU Guard Officer Leadership Development (GOLD) program has included homage to their roots of Oklahoma Military Academy with their new patch. The students wear the subdued green version of the patch on their ACUs (Army Combat Uniform).

As a bit of history, the OMA Coat of Arms patch consisted of the Oklahoma flag in authentic colors, borne on a blue shield and surmounted by a crest. The crest comprises the Helmet of Pallas over a Greek sword symbolizing military and educational functions.

The state flag features a traditional Osage Nation buffalo-skin warrior's war shield with seven eagle feathers on a sky blue field. The blue field is inspired by the Choctaw flag adopted by the tribe in 1860 and carried through the American Civil War. The blue field also represents devotion.

The shield is covered by two symbols of peace: the calumet or peace pipe representing Native Americans, and the olive branch representing European Americans which lay across the shield.

The shield surmounted by the calumet and olive branch represents defensive or protective warfare, showing a love of peace by a united people. The design was officially adopted as Oklahoma's flag in 1925.

The scroll bears the motto: "Courage, Loyalty, and Honor." The OMA Coat of Arms was adopted in 1943, designed by 1918 West Point graduate and OMA President (1941-44), Captain John C. Hamilton and approved by the Oklahoma Historical Society and the OMA Board of Regents that same year.

While cadets wore the coat of arms on their uniform, the first OMA Vedette yearbook that had it on the cover was in 1945 and it was on every subsequent Vedette cover except 1946, 1949, 1970 and 1971.

We salute Captain Michael Mitchell, the Officer in Charge of the GOLD program, for instituting this patch for the GOLD Program cadets honoring the Oklahoma Military Academy.
