Institutional Fact Book
Rogers State University

The information contained in the Institutional Fact Book is collected from several institutional offices. The enrollment and faculty data are based on the preliminary data stored after the last day to drop courses with no grade record, which is traditionally the end of the second week of classes. The tuition information is provided by the Office of the Bursar and the fiscal data is provided by the Budgeting and Accounting Department.

Please note that, to the extent possible, the data presented on the following pages represent snapshots taken at the same time of the academic year. In some instances, however, variations in reporting cycles have limited our ability to do so. For this reason, the reader who attempts to cross-reference certain data tables may find discrepancies which may not be due to inaccuracies in the data.

Additional copies may be printed or downloaded from the RSU Accountability and Academics website (http://www.rsu.edu/about/accountability-academics/).

U.S. News Recognizes RSU for Low Student Debt, Diversity. RSU was recognized among the region's top schools for lowest student debt upon graduation and most ethnically diverse student bodies, according to U.S. News & World Report's Best Colleges annual survey. This is the fourth consecutive year U.S. News' Best Colleges has recognized RSU for having graduates with low student debt when compared to regional peers. The annual report noted almost half (49 percent) of RSU's 2013 graduating class earned a diploma without student debt, which was the most among western regional colleges. For those who did assume student debt, RSU graduates had the second-lowest average debt of $13,403 when compared with western regional college peers. Starting in January, all MBA courses will be offered in an eight-week format, which will allow students to complete coursework in an accelerated timeframe. The changes are designed to meet the needs of students, especially for working professionals. (November)

RSU Receives Largest Gift from an Individual to Establish Scholarship Endowments. RSU students have two new scholarship opportunities thanks to the legacy of Oklahoma Military Academy distinguished alumnus Jack Harris, who established a trust to provide funds for the establishment of two scholarship endowments prior to his death in November. He attended OMA, RSU's predecessor, from 1951 until 1955. The endowments are the single largest gift from an individual in RSU's history. The Allie L. Harris and Jack E. Harris Scholarship Endowment and the C. Earl Harris and Irene Harris Scholarship Endowment will become available to students next fall. Each scholarship gives first preference to students with majors in the School of Business and Technology and second preference to students with majors in the Schools of Mathematics, Science and Health Sciences. While the first scholarship honors the memory of Harris and his wife, the second honors the life and memory of Harris's parents, whom he credited with supporting his decision to attend OMA. (January)
